

COSTA RICA STEAM PROGRAM

ENROLLMENT PACKET

Welcome

Welcome to Black Girls Go Global! We're glad you're interested in participating in our program.

Our mission is to provide Black girls educational programs that promote S.T.E.A.M. (Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts, and Mathematics) and cultural enrichment experiences in host countries. The service-learning projects touch on one or more Sustainable Development Goals created by the United Nations in 2015 for a better and just world.

Our travel excursions are customized for our group. We work closely with our partners in host countries to ensure the goals of Black Girls Go Global are met, in accordance with our vision and mission.

The number of pages, paragraphs, or words is not important. The important thing is that your ideas are clear, complete, and compelling.

Give your essay a title.

Release of Liability for International Travel

I, the person signing this Release of Liability for International Travel, now voluntarily enters into this Release Agreement ("Release") with Black Girls Go Global. Black Girls Go Global is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization formed under the United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS) whose mission is to provide Black girls educational programs that promote S.T.E.A.M. (Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts, and Mathematics) and cultural enrichment experiences in host countries. The service-learning projects touch on one or more Sustainable Development Goals created by the United Nations in 2015 for a better and just world.

In order for Black Girls Go Global to allow me to participate in its program, I enter into this Agreement. In consideration of Black Girls Go Global allowing me to participate in the Program, which I agree in full and adequate consideration, I now enter into this Release Agreement, fully intending that I will be legally bound by it.

I now agree on behalf of myself and my heirs, assigns, personal representative, and estate to expressly release and defend, discharge, and indemnify Black Girls Go Global (its employees, officers, directors, agents, board members, volunteers, affiliates for and from any personal injury or property damage related to or occurring as the result of my participation in the program, or while traveling to and from the program site. I further represent that I (or my parent) has the authority to execute this Agreement, and that I am not under guardianship, conservatorship or any other legal authority.

Enrollment Application

Release of Liability for International Travel - Cont'd

I recognize that the program involves risks, both known and inherent risks and unknown or unanticipated risks. My participation in the Black Girls Go Global program could result in damage to or loss of my personal property and serious physical or emotional injury to me, up to and including death. These risks include but are not limited to risks involved in air and ground transportation, differences in living conditions, diet, water quality, pollution, climate, political stability, and crime control. I will experience a different cultural environment while traveling in the course of the Black Girls Go Global program, which may include different cultural stereotypes or expectations, sexual harassment, or other uncomfortable situations. While representatives of Black Girls Go Global will make reasonable efforts under the circumstances to respond to any of my health care and personal safety needs, I understand that any care or protection provided may differ significantly from care or protection available in the United States. Other risks are described by the U.S. Department of State at: http://travel.state.gov/travel/cis_pa_tw/cis/cis_1127.html.

All of these risks are listed as examples, and I understand that listing these examples is not a limitation of the potential hazards. Black Girls Go Global has not attempted to include an exhaustive list of the risks which I may encounter while participating in the Program. Knowing this, it is my intention for this Release to be interpreted as broadly as the law permits in favor of Black Girls Go Global regardless of whether any particular risk which may result in an injury to me is specifically listed in this agreement.

If Black Girls Go Global or anyone acting on its behalf incurs attorney's fees and costs to enforce this agreement, I agree to pay those attorney fees, and to indemnify them from all such fees and costs. If any provision is found to be unenforceable or invalid, all of the other terms and provisions of this Release shall remain in full force and effect.

Enrollment Application

Release of Liability for International Travel - Cont'd

I certify that I have insurance to cover injury or damage I may cause or suffer while participating in the Black Girls Go Global program, or else I agree to bear the cost of such injury or damage myself. I further certify that I have no medical, physical, emotional conditions, which could interfere with or compromise my safety during the course of the Black Girls Go Global program, or else I am willing to assume and bear the cost of all risks that may be created directly or indirectly by any such conditions.

This Release is a contract with legal consequences. By signing this document, I acknowledge that if personal injury or property damage occurs during participation in the Black Girls Go Global program, I may be found by a court of law to have waived my rights and any rights of my heirs, assigns, personal representative, and estate to maintain a lawsuit against Black Girls Go Global on the basis of the claims I am releasing. I have had sufficient opportunity to read this document in its entirety.

I understand this Release Agreement and I agree to be bound by its terms.

Alcohol and Drug Policy

As a participant of Black Girls Go Global, I understand that I am serving as an ambassador for Black Girls Go Global and my home community. Therefore, I am expected to abide by the laws, regulations, and customs of the host country, community, institution, and program.

Alcohol

Although there may be no minimum drinking age in the host country, the customs regarding alcohol use may be very different from those in the United States. I am aware of the following circumstances that might tempt me to misuse alcohol while abroad: a mistaken impression of how alcohol is used in your new surroundings; cheaper costs in some countries; a lower minimum drinking age; more lenient laws against drunkenness; or a desire to experiment or fit in.

However, I am well informed that alcohol misuse and abuse is not acceptable anywhere in the world and will not be tolerated on a Black Girls Go Global program. Violation of local laws and/or Black Girls Go Global policies related to alcohol use will result in:

- Parental notification and School/Organization notification
- Dismissal from program at parent's/guardian's own expense.

Drugs

(Adapted from the U.S. Department of State's Travel Warning on Drugs Abroad).

See <http://www.state.gov/r/pa/prs/ps/2008/feb/101133.htm> Also, www.travel.state.gov

Enrollment Application

Alcohol and Drug Policy

Black Girls Go Global has a zero-tolerance policy regarding the possession, use, manufacture, production, sale, exchange or distribution of illegal drugs by participants in the Black Girls Go Global program. Violation of this policy will result in:

- Parental notification and School/Organization notification
- Immediate dismissal from the program at parent's/guardian's own expense.
- Academic withdrawal from the School for the semester in progress (if applicable).

Each year several thousand Americans are arrested overseas. Many of the arrests are because of drug-related charges. If you choose to use illegal drugs abroad, there is very little that anyone at Black Girls Go Global, or the U.S. Government can do to help you if you are arrested.

You are operating under the laws of the host country and the regulations of the local institution. Neither the U.S. government nor the home institution will be able to secure your release should you be arrested. It is your responsibility to know the drug laws of a foreign country before you go. Some laws may be applied more strictly to foreigners than to local citizens; therefore, do not assume that just because local people are using drugs, it's acceptable for you to use drugs.

Enrollment Application

Alcohol and Drug Policy - Cont'd

Here is what the U.S. Consulate CAN and CANNOT do if you are arrested on drug charges:

The U.S. Consular Office CAN:

- Visit you in jail after being notified of your arrest.
- Give you a list of local attorneys. The U.S. Government cannot assume responsibility for the professional ability or integrity of these individuals or recommend a particular attorney.
- Notify your family and/or friends and relay requests for money or other aid - but only with your authorization.
- Intercede with local authorities to make sure that your rights under local laws are fully observed and that you are treated humanely, according to internationally accepted standards.
- Protest mistreatment or abuse to the appropriate authorities.

The U.S. Consular Office CANNOT:

- Demand your immediate release or get you out of jail or the country.
- Represent you at trial or give legal counsel.
- Pay legal fees and/or fines with U.S. government funds.

Enrollment Application

Alcohol and Drug Policy - Cont'd

If you are caught using illegal drugs by a Black Girls Go Global representative, you will be immediately dismissed from the program. You will be sent home at your parent's/guardian's expense. If you are caught by local authorities, it could mean:

- Interrogation and delays before trial, including mistreatment and solitary confinement for up to one year under very primitive conditions.
- Lengthy trials conducted in a foreign language, with delays and postponements.
- Weeks, months, or life in prison (some places include hard labor, heavy fines, and/or lashings), if found guilty.
- Death penalty in a growing number of countries (e.g., Malaysia, Pakistan, and Turkey).

Although drug laws vary from country to country, it is important to realize before you make the mistake of getting involved with drugs that foreign countries do not react lightly to drug offenders. In some countries, anyone who is caught with even a very small quantity for personal use may be tried and receive the same sentence as the large-scale trafficker.

- Once you leave the United States you are not covered by U.S. laws and constitutional rights.
- Bail is not granted in many countries when drugs are involved. The burden of proof in many countries is on the accused to prove his/her innocence.

Enrollment Application

Alcohol and Drug Policy - Cont'd

- In some countries, evidence obtained illegally by local authorities may be admissible in court.
- Few countries offer drug offenders jury trials or even require the prisoner's presence at trial.
- Many countries have mandatory prison sentences of seven years to life without the possibility of parole.

I have read these Alcohol and Drug Policies and agree to comply and support these regulations with full understanding that disciplinary actions will be made against me should I choose to violate this contract including dismissal from the program including required immediate return home at my own parent's/guardian's own cost; academic withdrawal from School (for the semester in progress); and disciplinary action upon return to School.

I have been informed of the possible hazards and legal consequences of alcohol and drug consumption and the tendency for some students to engage in such behavior during international or domestic academic traveling programs.

Travel Insurance

Black Girls Go Global will provide international insurance for program participants. This insurance normally covers the following ...

- Medical & Evacuation: Covers travelers for the cost of treating an illness or injury that occurs during their trip or if there is a need to evacuate the visiting country because of a disaster.
- Luggage: Provides benefits for travelers to purchase essentials while their luggage is delayed and can refund the cost of lost or damaged items.
- Accidental Death: Provides a lump sum payment in the event a traveler dies or loses a limb during their trip.
- Sports: Some policies can include benefits that extend to adventurous travelers who are participating in activities that may otherwise be excluded from coverage.

Our international travel insurance DOES NOT cover ...

- Cancellation: If the airlines cancel a flight, if Black Girls Go Global cancels the trip, or if there is a need to return to your home early, for a non-covered reason.
- Delay: If the traveler was late arriving at airport or missed a connection and/or if there was a financial loss in the event the trip is delayed.

There are many reasons to ensure your travel with a third-party insurance company. It is recommended that you find an insurer that will meet your needs before the program departure date. This will be an expense that will be out-of-pocket (at your cost).
